

30' MINUTES GLOBAL COMMUNITY PLATFORM SENIOR PROFESSIONALS

Andrea Frei

Co-Lead Human Capital Mgmt & Executive MBA - University of Applied Science&Arts Southern Switzerland (SUPSI)

Find out more

Isabel Froes

Interaction, service designer & researcher at Copenhagen Business School

Find out more

Enrico Rimoldi

Communications Director at Your Business Partner

Find out more

Anna Tramonti

Strategic Philantropy Unit at Fondazione AVSI

Find out more

Lorenzo Rimoldi

Consultant and Project Leader at Your Business Partner

Find out more

Paul Ettinger

Music, Coffee, Tech & Food entrepreneur
Co-founder and Chairman at Caffe Nero

Find out more

Barbara Gerber

VP managing director Europe and Senior Branding Consultant at Addison Whitney

Find out more

Maria Ricci

Private Partnership Coordinator at AVSI

Find out more

Stefano Lai

Chief Operating Officer at SIAM 1838
Journalist for blogs and magazines and professor at University for Communication in Milan

Find out more

Barbara Giannelli

Owner at Studio Barbara Giannelli

Find out more

Marina Veldanova

Professor of practice at Skolkovo Business School
Head of Healthcare at healthcare development centre in Skolkovo

Find out more

Tom Maes

VP Innovation Product Supply at Bayer

Find out more

Egisto Franceschi

Experienced Senior Executive
Freelance Management Consultant

Find out more

Mario Volonterio

Head of Vodafone Business Technology Solutions and Member of the Board at Vodafone

Find out more

Wanda Tappi

Senior Manager in HR in a global luxury industry

Find out more

Elisabet Nyquist

General Manager at Opes-Lcef

Find out more

Anna Tramonti

Hey, nice to meet you!

My name is Anna, I am 43 years old.

I have been living in Milan for over 15 years and I love this city so rich in opportunities and beauty.

I have two sons, Davide and Matteo, and many dear friends. People are important to me and I like to discover new thoughts and interests.

I believe we can find at least a point of connection with anybody and I believe it to be an opportunity for personal growth.

Click to watch the video about me:

<https://vimeo.com/671164168>

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

I have a degree in economics with a specialisation in third sector organisations.

I also have a master's degree in development studies from Oxford, where I lived happily for a couple of years.

Previous working experience

Before coming to Milan I worked in a start-up for fingerprint-based security systems. I spent most of my working life in Fondazione AVSI: for 10 years I managed people and projects for our countries in Eastern Europe, then Middle East and finally East Africa.

I have a I had the privilege to travel a lot and to see interesting places.

Current working experience

5 years ago I set up the Strategic Philanthropy Unit to work in a structured way with Foundations at European level.

Over the last two years, I have become the contact person within AVSI Foundation for positioning and networking with these entities.

I really enjoy this job which allows me to study new trends, meet new partners and share valuable experiences.

The process of thinking together, finding new ways and solutions for positive change is energising to me.

Which kind of person I am

I am very poliedric, with many interests. It's not easy for me to define myself. Probably, I'm super curios and attracted to novelty and innovation. Kindness and enthusiasm are very important to me. As a child, I wanted to be an architect. I have not forgotten this passion but have used it to create my home which is bright and colourful.

Conclusion

Well, that's me! What about you?

Andrea Frei

Hi! My name is Andrea Frei, I am an enthusiastic and slightly aged consultant and HR professional. Italian and Swiss both in one soul, I live in the countryside in Switzerland, somewhere halfway between Milan and the Alps.

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

I am an Italian native speaker and I speak German, French and English.

After the Swiss Matura in Chur, I graduated in Political and Social Sciences in Milan and got an Executive Master in Consulting and Coaching for Change at INSEAD in France.

Previous working experience

Before founding my own firm, I worked in various HR functions for more than ten years in different industries, and I was HR Director and part of the general management of Avaloq Sourcing for over 15 years. In my jobs, I had a chance to work closely with the company's top management and senior leaders, helping them to achieve excellent results by inspiring a learning organization and by acting personally as a change agent, contributing to the creation of a unique company culture, focused on personal value and professional work.

Current working experience

As of 2017 I have been starting my own consulting firm; moreover I am co-responsible for two Masters of Advanced Studies at the University of Applied Sciences and Arts of Southern Switzerland (SUPSI) and I work under part-time arrangements at the Cantonal Hospital of Southern Switzerland (EOC). I am member of advisory boards in my specialty.

Which kind of person I am

I am married to Bettina and my children are Luca, Marco, Giulia, Alyssa, Cecilia, and Tommaso, our boisterous and lovely family, amplified by three amiable dogs and a high-spirited horse.

As a lifelong rugby player and fan, I believe in sportsmanship and fair play and I found my values on passion, respect and ethical conduct. After having successfully practised rugby at competitive level, I have still difficulties not overdoing cycling and mountain sports.

I am an emotional person who also loves opera, cooking and gardening, which is my way to express my kindness, compassion and understanding for humankind.

I am a thoughtful, thorough, rational and serious person who tries to carry well-considered reflections to the discussion.

Conclusion

If you are thinking about your work identity or your professional perspectives and you would like speaking to someone who may have a different view from that of everyone else then I would be pleased to have a discussion with you.

Questions that may arise are for instance:

Towards what do I want to change? Towards my ideals, my passions or simply away from what I need to leave?

How can I make the right choice rather than falling into another wrong choice?

I struggle knowing what is essential to me.

I ask myself whether all that I did in my work really makes sense.

I feel the need to dedicate my time and energies to more important things, but I cannot switch to another job

On the other hand if you are pretty sure you want to become an HR Director and you just struggle for that, then I am pleased to advise you on how to reach a considerable level of expertise in that discipline.

Barbara Gerber

Hi, nice to meet you!
I am Barbara, a seasoned and passionate branding and communications professional with over 25 years of career in the health & Pharma industry. I am an Italian Biologist, living and working in London with frequent commute to Milan, my birth town.

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

I am a Doctor in Biological Sciences, graduated at Università degli Studi di Milano with a thesis in Immunology. I speak Italian, English, French and Hungarian.

Previous working experience

After a few years working first at a medical lab and then in the marketing sector of a couple of Pharma Italian companies I entered the Pharma communications and advertising agencies world (SH Italia, Lintas Pharma Italia) as medical writer and then with account role. In 1990 I co-founded GHITALIA, pharma & healthcare advertising agency, leading it as managing director for 10 years when I switched to the global GHGroup as SVP Business Unit Director until 2009 when I joined InterbrandHealth as Senior Director of Client Services Europe for 5 years. Successively I joined Addison Since 2013 at Addison Whitney as VP Managing Director Europe and Senior Branding Consultant I oversee business development and client relationships throughout geographies, developing global and pan-European branding and communications projects. I enjoy the challenge of building strong foundations for brands in the Health & Pharma sector!

Current working experience

Since 2013 at Addison Whitney as VP Managing Director Europe and Senior Branding Consultant I oversee business development and client relationships throughout geographies, developing global and pan-European branding and communications projects. I enjoy the challenge of building strong foundations for brands in the Health & Pharma sector!

Which kind of person I am

I am happy to have fulfilled my teenager dream to become a biologist to study human cells and investigate the secrets of natural and pathological mechanisms. The degree allowed me to work first in a medical lab and then continue my career in the Pharma and Health sector.

My biggest satisfaction relies on the fact that throughout my career I had the chance to study and work on several pharmaceutical brands that introduced therapeutical advancements and made a difference for patients. Also I am proud for having contributed to establish the HBA organization in Europe as a resource for leadership and career development that truly makes a difference for women in the Health and Pharma sector.

Conclusion

I will be delighted and very interested to talk with you, answer your questions, share my experience and insights.

Do you have questions linked to careers in the Health & Pharma sector?

Do you wish to discuss topics related to Marketing and Branding?

Do you wish to talk about career advancement, leadership development?

Do you simply wish to share your thoughts, experience, insights?

I am a curious listener, open to answer honestly, eager to learn from you and ready to provide guidance and mentoring.

Barbara Giannelli

Hi, how are you? Nice meeting you. I'm Barbara, 60 years old, I am Italian, I was born in Milano but I have a "Mitteleuropean" education, as my mother was German. I am married with Carlo and our daughter Giulia is 21, internationally driven, she's studying in Great Britain. .

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

I have a degree in Business Administration at Bocconi University of Milano, macroeconomics

Previous working experience

My first job was in Marketing Researches. I have been working in fashion since 1986, when I was hired by Giorgio Armani. I have been working for Armani until 1993; in 1996 I opened my consulting firm, after having worked at KRIZIA for 3 years as Licensing Manager.

Current working experience

My consulting firm, Studio Giannelli, is still operating in licensing and consulting for development strategies, mainly to brands belonging to the fashion, accessories and design worlds. We help brands in finding their motivation, in consolidating their DNA and in some cases in finding partner (merger and acquisition consulting activity as advisor).

Which kind of person I am

I have always liked studying, I am very curious, focused, and I have always dreamt to be independent, to offer my thoughts to clients who needed my help for growing. By opening my consulting firm I reached my desire: it is a great passion to be able to transmit all my experience and capabilities to analyse and solve problems, without any conditions, with no "hierarchy of thoughts", just willing to be useful in a genuine way to my clients.

Conclusion

I would be more than happy to help you, with my advises coming from real experience and real life in this sector (fashion and design). How can I help you?

Egisto Franceschi

Hi, Hi, my name is Egisto and I'm excited to meet you. I'm 52 years old, but feel much younger, or at least I like to think so!

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

I have a degree in English literature from UC Berkeley, in California and an MBA from Columbia Business School in New York.

Previous working experience

I have been working for 30 years, in many different countries, always in financial services or banks. I've had many roles, including setting up a couple of companies and taking one to IPO. Some of the countries I've lived or worked in are the US, UAE, Egypt, France, India and Australia. And of course Italy, which is where I'm from. I am fluent in English, Italian, French, and can converse in Spanish.

Current working experience

Right now I'm freelancing, but I should be setting up a startup imminently!

Which kind of person I am

I am a positive person, who likes to joke and laugh a lot, even in adversity. As a kid I dreamt of being a rockstar or a professional athlete, instead ended in banking in financial services. Not sure anyone dreams of working in a bank as a child!

Conclusion

I am happy to talk to you about anything really, I have many interests and have had many extreme experiences.

Elisabet Nyquist

Hi, I am Elisabet. I am Swedish but living and working in Italy for many years. Now in the impact investing space. Previously I have long experience in the profit but also non-profit sector.

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

*Master of Business Administration INSEAD, France
Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, Stockholm University, Sweden*

Previous working experience

My professional career started as a consultant at McKinsey & Company, both in Scandinavia and Italy. I left McKinsey when I got the opportunity to run the Italian office of the Swedish Trade Council (today Business Sweden). I have worked as CEO for many different SMEs in Italy in various industries (education, venue management, health, fashion, etc.).

Current working experience

*Today, I work with businesses that create positive social and/or environmental returns. I work for Opes-Lcef, a non-profit foundation that provides patient capital to early-stage enterprises tackling poverty and benefitting low-income communities. We invest in Africa and Italy and embed gender lens investing into our approach to magnify our impact and make our investments smarter.
We also do a yearly training event, the Social Enterprise Open Camp, for people working in the impact space or aspiring to do so.*

Which kind of person I am

*I am a generalist having worked as a CEO in many SMEs in different industries and I embrace diversity in the Company. I am very action-oriented (sometimes too much).
In my free time, I spend time with my family and take care of my olive trees in Tuscany.*

Conclusion

If you would like to share ideas, thoughts, I am happy to listen. If my personal story can support your next step, I would be even happier.

Isabel Froes

Hi, Hello and welcome! I'm Isabel, originally from Brazil but lived half of my life abroad, between the US and Europe. I'll be happy to help you in your journey, whichever that may be.

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

I have a bachelor degree in Psychology from PUC-Rio Brazil, a Masters in Interactive Telecommunications from New York University, NY and a PhD in design and technology from the IT University in Copenhagen.

Previous working experience

I never had a linear path, my background stretches from psychology to interaction and service design and as such, I have worked as user researcher, interaction designer, professor. From creating interactive online campaigns for 20th Century Fox in LA (interaction designer in 2001) to developing and working in large EU funded projects at Copenhagen Business School (as a professor at the moment). I also have had my own consultancy firm for many years while also teaching in various universities with various focus, such as the Royal College of Art (RCA), Tecnológico de Monterrey (Mexico), and various universities in Denmark.

Current working experience

Besides the consultancy work, I have joined Copenhagen Business School in 2017, where I develop and work on EU funded projects, besides teaching 'Strategic Innovation and Design Thinking'.

Which kind of person I am

I believe in kindness and I love meeting people - I enjoy bridging worlds and cultures, while also learning with them.

Conclusion

So, what's your first question? I'll be happy to help!

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Lorenzo Rimoldi

Hi, I'm Lorenzo, call me Lorenz. For me home is London where I live with my wife and my two year old son. I'm 32, work in strategy and innovation consultancy and I'm passionate about designing solutions to improve people's lives.

Education

I have a BA in Economics and Management at Ca' Foscari University, Venice (Italy), a MA in Political Economy at City University London and I'm currently an MBA candidate at Bayes Business School.

Previous working experience

With a background in economics and management, over the past 10 years I saw different sectors from the consultancy side including international development, tech, telco, financial services and healthcare, the latter being where my current focus and curiosity lie.

Current working experience

I currently work at Your Business Partner as Consultant and Project Leader, focusing on identifying un-met needs in the markets in which we operate and designing new services as potential responses.

I like working in healthcare applying the Value-Based Healthcare approach to improve clinical outcomes, patients' experience and organisational efficiency. My experience includes helping pharma companies designing patient support programmes and product launches, as well as supporting hospitals delivering superior services to patients.

Which kind of person I am

I like to think I'm a calm person who tries to look at reality honestly. This feeds my continuous research about myself and my next steps in life. I guess this makes me an introvert.

Other than that, I'm curious about innovation, goal oriented and passionate about delivering projects that can have an actual impact in people's lives.

I love to stay outdoors, mountains are my natural habitat, and my family is my main source of energy.

Conclusion

Listening to new ideas and meeting smart people stimulates me, that's why I'm keen to be part of this platform. If there is anything I can help you with, just pin me and I'll be happy to have a chat!

Maria Ricci

Ciao! I'm Maria, I'm 38 years old, i was born in Rome but soon thereafter i became a citizen of the world (since my usual condition is traveling..)

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

*I did 5 years of theater (when i was 5 until 10).
I have a diploma as a volleyball coach.
I'm graduated in Development Cooperation (La Sapienza University in Rome), then i attended the master in Project Management with ALTIS Postgraduate School Business in Milan.*

Previous working experience

*I consider my first job babysitting my 4 younger siblings and coordinating their activities in the afternoon and plan everyday dinner for everyone (it proved very useful and revealed some of my attitudes).
Then i was a volleyball coach (after playing myself too) and i learned the value of a shared strategy and teamwork!
In 2004 i met the italian NGO AVSI and i committed to AVSI projects in Romania, especially the Distance Support program.
Since october 2008 i've been working with AVSI in the fundraising department, where i initially took care of the acquisition and management of a CRM system and of the re-organization of the department.
Since 2013 i'm the coordinator of the Private Partnership department of AVSI, that means the promotion of all the fundraising campaigns and actions, the relationships and projects with individuals, companies and foundations.
In 2014 i created the "Strategic Philanthropy Unit" inside the Private Partnership Department in order to develop strong, equal and successful partnership with various philanthropic actors.*

Current working experience

I'm still the Private Partnership Coordinator of AVSI!

Which kind of person I am

My childhood dream was first to become an archaeologist (i've always loved history!) then an actress and then i realized that i wanted a job useful to the world and that allow people to realize themselves.

I'm very curious and i really like meeting people! I always learn something useful from each person.

I love reading books and traveling! I really love modern art and visiting exhibitions and museum. But i also really like spending "normal" time with good friendships, eating well and having fun! i'M a very ironic person (even self ironic!) and i like to laugh out loud!

Conclusion

So here i am and i'm very curious to know you!

What can we learn together from each other?!

Marina Veldanova

Hi, nice to see you here! It means you are eager to change something in your life and ready to discuss it with supportive person)

I am Marina, 50+ years old and may be support you in your transforming journey)

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Education

I am Medical doctor, PhD, specialist in marketing, MBA, executive-coach. Also I graduated from INSEAD business school as an international executive manager.

Previous working experience

I spent 25 years in international pharmaceutical industry in different roles: sales person, product manager and marketing head, general manager and senior VP.

Current working experience

For the last 3 years I have worked as a Professor of practice in Moscow school of management Skolkovo in Russia. My area of expertise is strategic marketing, leadership and team development. Also I am executive coach (means coach-mentor for managers in their professional challenges). And I am Head of healthcare development centre in Skolkovo.

Which kind of person I am

I am mature but still energy) experienced but still curious) strong leader but soft mom and grandma) always busy, but open for new challenges)))

Conclusion

How can I help you? I am able to listen without judgement, to help you to reflect on your dilemmas in safe space, to share and generate together ideas for your own choice.

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Mario Volonterio

Hi, I'm Mario
I live in Italy, I think without borders!

Education

I have a degree in Industrial Engineering, I speak Italian and English

Previous working experience

I have been working over 25 years in the IT and the Telecommunications Industry where I have built an extensive experience in transforming organizations, working for major consulting firms in the past and today as an executive for a Global Telecom Operator.

Current working experience

Currently I'm working for Vodafone in Italy, I'm the Head of Vodafone Business Technology Solutions and Member of the Board.
In my role I provide technology solutions for Vodafone Business customers ... from the basic connectivity services to the most complex industry dedicated solutions (IoT, mobile private networks etc)

Which kind of person I am

I do like challenges, I do love challenges dealt with a team

Conclusion

I value of experience sharing as an accelerator of mutual growth and any of us has something to share.
Personally I have a lot to share ... tips, success stories and big, big fails ... I won't be able to solve your problems but I can inspire you to find the solution

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Enrico Rimoldi

Hi, nice to meet you! I'm Enrico, I'm 61 years old

Click to watch the video about me:

<https://vimeo.com/652401174>

Education

I have a degree in Discipline of Arts, Music and Show.

Previous working experience

25 of those years I have spent as a television director creating and directing comedy, music and sports programs.

*During this time I was lucky enough to work with Luciano Pavarotti and Spike Lee,
As well as being a director for the World
Cup in South Africa in 2010.*

Current working experience

For the past 9 years I have been working as communications director for Your Business Partner, a strategy and innovation company, based in Milan and London.

Which kind of person I am

My childhood dream was to become a comedian; I was crazy about the Laurel & Hardy movies and Buster Keaton and Jacques Tati, which I watched on TV when I came home from school.

From this passion, I worked in comic theatre and won a national award.

My favourite film director is Wes Anderson, because he has a mix of cinema, theatre and comedy.

I like to draw, always with a pinch of humour, which is where my ideas to take shape from.

What else to tell you?

I love my family, Maria Rosaria, my wife, Lorenzo and Angelica, my two children who live and work in London, and the joy of my life is my grandson Riccardo Miguel, the most beautiful and likeable child in the world.

Here, this is me.

How can I help you?

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Paul Ettinger

Hi! My name is Paul Ettinger but most people call me Pablo, my nickname for over 50 years! I live in London UK, but am very European!

Education

I have a bachelor's degree in Physics and an MBA from Insead, France

Previous working experience

I spent thirteen years in the chemical industry and ended up helping to run a chemical factory in Germany. I then decided to return to the UK and help to start a coffee company which has grown to over 1000 stores in 11 countries. In the past year I have helped to build other businesses including a social network and I am an angel investor and Director in a number of food, music and tech businesses.

Current working experience

My current projects are building a live music agency, a street food business and still running Caffe Nero's music program

Which kind of person I am

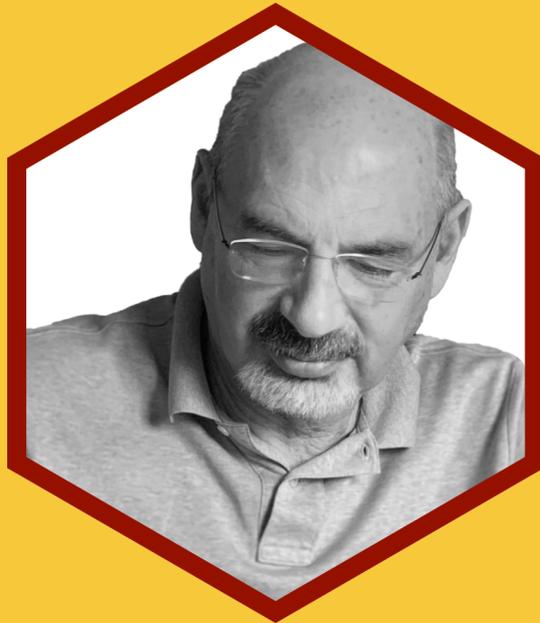

I am a scientist/engineer/musician and entrepreneur so a bit mixed up but that allows me to view challenges and problems with a creative, problem solving mindset and I enjoy making things happen and building new businesses in many different areas from technology to live music.

Conclusion

If you are thinking of building a business or scaling one up then I can get excited by that and my experience might just be useful at some point. I learn from my mistakes and have learnt a lot.

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Stefano Lai

Hi, my name is Stefano Lai. I am 60 years old and have lived in Italy since I was born but luckily, I've had the opportunity to travel all around the world and I've always worked in an international environment. My wife is British so my family is kind of international too

Education

I have a degree in Political Science with specialisation in Sociology. I am a registered journalist and I have studied finance for non finance managers at the IMD of Lausanne

Previous working experience

I started my career as a radio journalist, hosting a morning program and the news at 12 program. After that I moved to work as researcher at the Bocconi university in the mathematics department (maths has always fascinated me) and from there I moved to Public Relations and advertising agencies to begin my career in communication. After that I was Chief Communication Officer for International companies: Omnitel, that became Vodafone Italy, then Benetton and more recently Ferrari where I held my position for almost 12 years.

Current working experience

Two years ago I decided to move from pure communication and wanted to do something related to young people and managing an organisation. So in 2020 I was appointed Chief Operating Officer of SIAM 1838, the oldest school in Milan, founded in 1838, promoting courses for young people and adults both in traditional craft jobs (for electricians, plumbers, tailors...) and new ones (java programmers, data analysts, robotic experts).

At the same time, I keep working as journalist for blogs and magazines, as well as teaching at the University for Communication in Milan.

I am also a qualified sommelier and I have followed various cooking courses

Which kind of person I am

I am curious, I love learning new things. Given my work history I can speak in public and I am not shy, but as Chief Communication Officer I learnt quickly that to communicate it is more important to listen than to talk. I am very direct and I prefer people who address issues straight on. I am a good team player but I am not a passive follower. I demand a lot of myself and of those around me

Conclusion

I would love to hear from you if you think my story and my experience can help you. Even if you are doing something completely different, maybe some of my path can be useful to better understand what you are facing. Working in international environments has trained me to see the different aspects of an issue. Shall we talk?

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Tom Maes

Hi, I'm Tom. Right now I have 25 years of work experience gathered in Belgium and Germany.

Education

My education was in science. I have a PhD in chemistry from the Catholic University in Leuven.

Previous working experience

I spend my entire career in manufacturing. First close to the shop floor as a plant manager, then as a consultant supporting plant managers in change processes, and later on a strategy level. Now I focus on how innovation changes the way we run, optimize, and organize manufacturing. Innovation, the ideas, the projects, the teams, the network, and the supporting programs is what I enjoy doing for the last 7 years.

Which kind of person I am

Big questions fascinate me. Now it is how we can innovate to become truly sustainable that keeps me busy. But it started when I was little. When I had a hard time falling asleep, I started wondering if one can travel to the edge of the universe (and back). Finding out that whenever you reach a destination, the one you are heading to is always further down the road.

Conclusion

That intrigues me. Tomorrow is full of surprises. If you let it happen.

INNOVATION & LEADERSHIP COMMUNITY

Wanda Tappi

Hello! Here I am! Pleased to meet you! I am Wanda, 46 years old, Italian. Currently based in Rome. Great sport fan and supporter.

Education

*I have a degree in Communication Science, in University of Siena, Italy.
And a Master in HR Management, at LUISS University in Rome.*

Previous working experience

Eager to communicate to all of you? Definitely yes! And I do hope I will be able to do it... as this is my academic background! And it's true that I started my career in public relations, external communication and topics like those, jumping from the media industry to the tourism sector. At some point in time, I changed the focus I had on my audience. Why not communicate with people in a company? Why not address my previous skills to a favourite audience of employees? And it happened to become an HR professional, with specialties in Learning, People Development, Internal Communication, Organization, Compensation & Benefits, HRBP roles. I used to be part of HR teams in the automotive industry first, then I experienced the financial business and currently I am an HR leader in a global luxury industry.

Current working experience

As said, I am currently a senior manager in HR (with focus on Compensation & Benefits on top on HRBP responsibilities) in a global luxury industry.

Which kind of person I am

How do I describe myself? Let's touch base first and you will judge on your own!:)

Ok, I will try to give you some insights... When I was a child I longed for being an interpreter as I felt amazing having someone close to your ear able to make you understand all the others.

I never became what I dreamt in my childhood, but in my professional field, I help people understand business needs and at the same time I support them in listening to their own needs and the business to care for them. In my personal life I am a good 'listener', a good and empathetic friend.

I would say I am an open minded person, eager to discover and learn, enabling everyone to give his/her contribution, trying to crumble barriers and boundaries. Maybe because my first client is Ludovica, my brother's daughter, 10 years old. As all young generations, she is teaching me boundaries are there to be overpassed. By the way, far to be an interpreter, I anyway studied English, German and Swedish...

My everyday remark is to 'make people smile'. I am totally sure you can do all your daily tasks by adding a laugh and a drop of lightness.

Conclusion

Curious to meet me? I am here! Just let me know how can I support you!